Inherent factors:
Age and gender

Underlying factors:
Demographics: mother’s age, occupation, and education; electricity access; ownership of domestic animals and land; and iron intake during gestation. Household: wealth index, size, food security, and monthly income; type of latrine; water-source

Intermediate factors:
Health behaviour: nutritional and immunization status; history of hospital admission, stunting, and being underweight

Immediate factors:
Child-illness and dietary intake: and iron-rich food consumption

Child iron deficiency anaemia