Supplementary Figure S1. Spearman's rank correlation coefficient analysis comparing number of nymphs and adults for the three more abundant whiteflies specie. Each dot represent a sampled field. Only fields where nymphs and adults or where only one phase was observed were included in this analysis. Scatter plot showing 95% of confidence interval (light green) are shown. Total, correspond all three specie ploted together.