

S2 Shows the general work-flow of the two step approach. First, Species Distribution Models (biomod2) were applied, to model and project the species distribution (po = species probability of occurrence, p = species presence, a = species absence.) Second, Random Forest was applied to model and project the species bioturbation potential (BP).