

Weather stations did not record any rainfall during survey periods, or sunset temperatures below 11.6 °C (mean = 16.6 °C). In addition, average ground level wind speeds did not exceed 2.3 m s⁻¹, substantially lower than wind speeds (11 m s⁻¹) reported by Davidson-Watts (2014, unpublished data), in which radio-tagged barbastelles continued to display the same behaviour as on calmer nights.