Cover Letter / consent of Questionnaire

Dear Participants:

You are respectfully invited to participate in a scientific research study titled "Assessing the Professional Quality of Life in the context of pediatric care". The goal of this research is to investigate the impact of compassion satisfaction and compassion fatigue. The findings of this study will contribute to a better understanding of the compassion fatigue level and compassion satisfaction level of pediatric nurses. Your participation in this study is vital, and we appreciate your consideration. If you choose to participate, you will be asked to complete an online survey using Google Forms. It is estimated that the survey will take approximately 10-15 minutes to complete. Your informed consent will be considered given if you decide to complete the survey as a participant voluntarily. This meant they agreed to participate in the study before proceeding to answer the questionnaire. Each participant could only use the link once and had the choice to select either the "I agree" or "I do not agree" checkbox. Rest assured, no personally identifying information will be collected, and your responses will be anonymous. Your participation in this study is completely voluntary, without any penalties or loss of benefits if you choose not to participate or withdraw at any time. Additionally, there are no associated costs for participation. This research study has been reviewed and approved by the Institutional Review Board (IRB) of King Saud University, supervised by Dr. Manal Alharbi

Thank you for considering participating in this research study. By completing the survey, you are providing valuable insights that will contribute to the advancement of knowledge in the field of pediatric nursing. If you have any questions or concerns regarding this study, you may contact the Researchers: Dr. Manal F.
